SPECIAL COMMITTEE TO REVIEW COLLEGE ACADEMIC PROGRAMS AND GOALS

general Studies Program early next week.

An ad hoc committee to review the academic goals and programs of the College will begin interviewing individuals and groups regarding the College's Gen-

Alfred Egge, chairman of the committee, states that the general studies requirements will be the first priority of his task force, which plans to hold weekly open forums dealing with the various aspects of general studies.

Meetings with each of the campus organizations are also planned. Dr. Egge states that the members of the ad hoc committee are interested in talking with each and every person who has ideas to contribute on the general studies program. "We all need to work together on the many questions which need to be resolved," said Dr. Egge.

In appointing the committee, President Pfau also charged it to review the large, medium and small class pattern; to review the educational goals; to review the number of professional programs; to review the phasing-in pattern of the master's degree programs and to explore whether or not the College should develop some form of external degree program.

The committee is also very interested in articulation of credits of transfer students.

Members of the special committee are Donald Blish, Charles 170 STUDENTS NAMED TO ACADEMIC HONOR ROLLS Academic honors were awarded to 170 CSCSB students at the end of the Fall Quarter. Among the honor students were 13 students who carried 20 units and one who carried 25 units. Sixteen freshmen and 40 transfer students in their first quarter at the College were among the 170 honor students, which equals about 34% of the total list (10% first-time freshmen; 24% first-time transfer students). Fifty-one students were named to the President's List for achieving a straight A average for the quarter and 119 to the Dean's List for a B+ or higher average.
